

MESSAGE FROM CHIEF EDITOR

Dear Readers,

It is heartening to present the second issue of the DET journal with renewed spirit & enthusiasm. Like the previous issue, this issue also focuses on the newer methods of imparting dental education so as to facilitate overall development of the students.

Teaching learning process involves participation of both the teachers & the learners equally & keeping this in mind the issue includes papers from both. The learner centered education through appropriate methodologies such as syndicate, mind mapping, small group teaching and feedback mechanism facilitate effective learning.

In our institute teachers are providing a variety of learning experiences, including individual & collaborative learning. Of late digital resources for learning have also be successfully incorporated in the teaching learning process. Because of such qualitative measures taken by the teachers the standard of the institute has definitely improved and I hope we will strive to achieve the impossible.

I deem it a privilege to acknowledge the immense contribution of the DET team & the constant momentum from our beloved Dean, Dr. Usha Radke & Vice Dean Dr. S.R. Shenoi.

I would like to specially thank our management of VSPM for bestowing upon us this great responsibility to come up with something fruitful for our students & staff members.

I once again congratulate the DET team & wish them a happy 2020.

Dr. Mukta Motwani

Chief Editor
